DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-15, drawn to an apparatus for inducing phase separation.

Group II, claim(s) 16-23, drawn to a process of clarifying bacterial lysate.

The inventions listed as Groups I - II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Ju et. al. US Pat. No.6, 036, 940 issued on March 14, 2000 teach an apparatus that meets the criteria recited for the apparatus of claim 1.

Claim 1 recites an apparatus for inducing phase separation in a pharmaceutical grade cell lysate comprising: a conduit comprising a cell lysate solution in fluid communication with a gas port through which a gas is forced under pressure into the conduit comprising the cell lysate solution thereby controllably forming bubbles in the cell lysate solution.

Ju et. al. Fig. 7 and col. 12 lines 5-25 teach an apparatus comprising: a conduit (14 of fig. 7) comprising cells (12 of Fig. 7) in solution (cell media perfusing the cells in 14) in fluid communication with a gas port (26 a and 28 b are conduits in Fig. 7) through which a gas (air) is forced under pressure into the conduit (14) comprising the cell solution is taught.

Thus the apparatus described in claims (1-15) of Group I cannot therefore be considered a special technical feature. The expression "special technical features" refers to those features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Thus lack of unity rules hold that a feature known to a person of ordinary skill in the art cannot be considered special technical feature. Therefore unity of invention is lacking.

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1637

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
